

RENZ FOR QUALITY

MADE IN GERMANY

| Top Class Medical Technology Products

From the practice-For the practice, this is the model of the RfQ-Medizintechnik Company since its founding in 1949.

From the beginning, it was the endeavours of the company founder to associate, and with time, establish the name of "Renz" to stand for above average quality of medical technology products in the market. The spirit of quality and philosophy eventually lead to the realization both nationally and internationally that "Renz is Quality". "Renz for Quality" became a phrase in everyday use. What was better than to abbreviate this successful formula into "RfQ" and use it as our company and trade name. Today, we are specialized manufacturers and sellers of top quality products in numerous areas of medical technology. In our company we aim at offering our customers the largest possible benefits. Customer satisfaction is top priority beginning with an inquiry, continuing through our offer and subsequent delivery, and includes supporting our customers regarding their questions concerning care and maintenance of our products.

| Highest Quality Stands In The Foreground

RfQ-products stand for the best quality, long life, precision, and an excellent price-performance ratio. Through modern equipment and efficient methods, the specialized experience and craftsmanship of our team was meaningfully supplemented for permanent quality assurance. We are certified according to DIN EN ISO 13485:2003 and the EC-Guidelines 93/42/EEC.

In addition, we are registered with the U.S. American F.D.A. and the CHINESE F.D.A. The RfQ-Company's range of products encompasses more than 6000 instruments for various areas of usage in the medical field. Our special strengths and core skills lie in the manufacturing and distribution of surgical instruments, fiber-optic products and numerous additional solutions for the advancing field of medical technology. As a developer of new products, we can look back at decades of tradition.

| The Best Service Is Guaranteed

Our company operates worldwide. For over 60 years, we take care and maintain business partnerships with customers in North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. In order to continually broaden our customer service, we continuously improve our structure. As a result, all national and international markets can be completely and extensively supplied with our products and performance. A part of our success is the service convenience of our products, something that we are especially proud of. Attention is paid already during the construction of RfQ products so that service and maintenance measures can be done simply and carried out in a cost-cutting manner.

Headquarters With Tradition

The headquarters of the the RfQ-Medizin-technik Company is located in Tuttlingen, Germany, globally one of the most important centers of medical technology. Surrounded by the Swabian countryside between the Black Forest and the Lake of Constance, the people living and working here are considered as being diligent and hard working, who persevere and possess innovative strength. Mechanics and fine mechanics have a long tradition in Tuttlingen. These are the best requirements for medical technology products that have the highest precision, function and quality.
